Talmadge Shakedown Of Publishers Charged

Firms Allowed To Up Price, Arnall Says

By LAMAR Q. BALL.

A shakedown for campaign funds from publishers of textbooks used in Georgia schools is being attempted by Governor Talmadge and the Palace Guard, it was charged yesterday by Ellis Arnall.

At the same time, the attorney general charged that the Talmadge administration, in spite of contract prices, has permitted schoolbook publishers to increase their prices to the state 40 per cent.

"The parsimonious Talmadge is permitting the price of a fifth grade English textbook to be increased to 42 cents in spite of the fact that the spendthrift Rivers paid only 30 cents for the identical book," said Arnall.

12-Cent Raise.

The book that Arnall used as his first illustration yesterday was New Language Goals, published by Lyons and Carnahan. "The state," said Arnall, "had a contract calling for delivery of these books at a 30-cent per copy rate.

"The wholesale price of the book has not been changed but the price to the state has been upped to 42 cents a copy.

"This increase in price was permitted without a particle of change in the content or the make-up of the book."

Arnall warned book publishers who are being called on for contributions to the Talmadge campaign that, as attorney general, he will permit no shakedowns.

Buying Important.

Georgia's schoolbook purchases are so important that more than a dozen salesmen of the various companies haunt the corridors outside while the State Board of Education is in session.

Arnall said yesterday: "I have been reliably informed that there is at this time on foot a movement to obtain substantial funds by the Governor from certain textbook companies in the state with the understanding that directly following this primary election, the present administration will purchase a great number of books from these companies as a pay-off.

Warns Companies.

"I want to warn textbook companies who are doing business in Georgia that this agreement never will be carried through.

"I am still attorney general of Georgia and will be until I take the oath of office as governor."

The plan, as Arnall outlined it, is that the so-called $10,000,000 excess fund about which Talmadge brags is being dangled in front of those who are being approached today for Talmadge campaign funds.

If Talmadge loses, the contributors are being told, the money will be in the state treasury for the payoff.

On the increase in textbook prices, Arnall said:

Content Unchanged.

"In 1940 the state was paying only 30 cents per copy for certain English textbooks used in the elementary grades. In 1941, the present administration permitted this company to increase the price of these books from 30 cents to 42 cents per copy. The wholesale price of this book was not changed but the purchase price to the state was increased 40 per cent. This increase in price was permitted without a particle of change in the content or make-up of the books.

"I hereby call on the Governor of Georgia to explain to the people of this state why this increase in price was permitted.

"We can recall when the present Governor left office the price of $500,000 in highway machinery which was useless to the state."

New British Bomber Is World's Fastest

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Britain took her Avro Lancaster off the secret list today and British aeronautics writers quickly hailed the battle-tested machine, as the biggest and fastest heavy bomber in the world.

The newly unveiled giant, like its famous teammate in raids on Germany—the Short Stirling—carries an eight-ton bomb load, but its pace of 300 miles per hour and up is better than the Stirling's. The Lancaster is armed with 10 .303-caliber machineguns mounted in four power turrets. It has a maximum range of 3,000 miles, a thousand more than the Stirling, and is thus the prime weapon for bold raids on selected targets deep in Germany. Its first officially disclosed operation was the daring daylight raid on Augsburg last April 17.

In July several Lancaster squadrons made the longest daylight attack flight of the European war—1,750 miles through bad weather to bomb the Danzig submarine yards. The Lancaster's weight is 30 tons. It has a wing spread of 102 feet and a 33-foot bomb compartment.

Aeronautical writers reported it is one of the favorites of RAF crews because of its speed and maneuverability.

'Adjustments' Clark Gable In Prices Due To Enlists, Asks Raise Food Bill To Be Gunner

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Widespread "adjustments" in food prices, which reportedly may boost the nation's food bill about one and one-half per cent, will be authorized for retailers and wholesalers by mid-September, Price Administrator Henderson announced today.

However, he warned, until the new OPA formula is worked out to relieve a price "squeeze" on hundreds of food items, prices must remain at the March levels fixed by the general maximum price regulation.

Some pricing method, as an alternative to the general maximum requirements, was necessary to avert any disturbances in the nation's food distribution system, Henderson declared. The advance announcement of OPA's plans will permit distributors to contract with food processors immediately for next year's merchandise.

Officials pointed out that the use of March as OPA's "ceiling price month" caught food distributors with many selling prices based on costs of stocks bought months before. Meanwhile, to placement costs had risen for many items and distributors could not restock except at the risk of cash losses.

Unless this "squeeze" were relieved, low-priced distributors, wholesale and retail, would have been compelled to drop important lines of food products, and food would have moved to consumers through distributors who had relatively high ceilings, they said.

The general maximum price regulation requires each seller to use as his maximum the highest price on each item charged in March.

Staggered Hour System Will Be Used in Schools

Atlanta's 60,000 school children will attend schools for the 1942-43 season under staggered hours, the Atlanta Board of Education decided yesterday as new teachers and principals were elected and details completed for classroom routine.

Elementary schools will begin classes at 9:30 o'clock and will run until 3 o'clock, while junior and senior high schools will open at 9:45 o'clock and continue until 3:45 o'clock under the new program. All classes formerly opened at 9:15 o'clock.

Spirit Is Praised.

"In adopting the new hours the Board of Education has shown a fine spirit of civic co-operation," H. Carl Wolf, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, said last night. "They have shown the same civic spirit that Atlanta business establishments have demonstrated in the chamber's effort to assure essential transportation by staggered hours."

George Mathews McCord, teacher of social science at Tech High school, was named principal of Murphy Junior High school, succeeding the late Principal H. O. Burgess, and Mrs. Ruth Hewin Satterfield, teacher at Adair school, was designated an elementary school principal and made subject to assignment by Dr. Willis A. Sutton, school superintendent. The elementary vacancy occurred when Mrs. Lucile Nolan retired.

Six new teachers were elected to fill emergency vacancies in high schools, eight resignations were accepted, 11 leaves of absence were granted, and three extensions of leaves were voted.

Extension of the services of Mrs. J. W. Doster and Mrs. Hattie C. Curt, eligible for retirement, were voted.

New high school teachers elected were A. K. Waters, Mary Gay Uden, John F. Yarbrough, Bartley F. Brown, Henry W. Derden and J. A. Lockett.

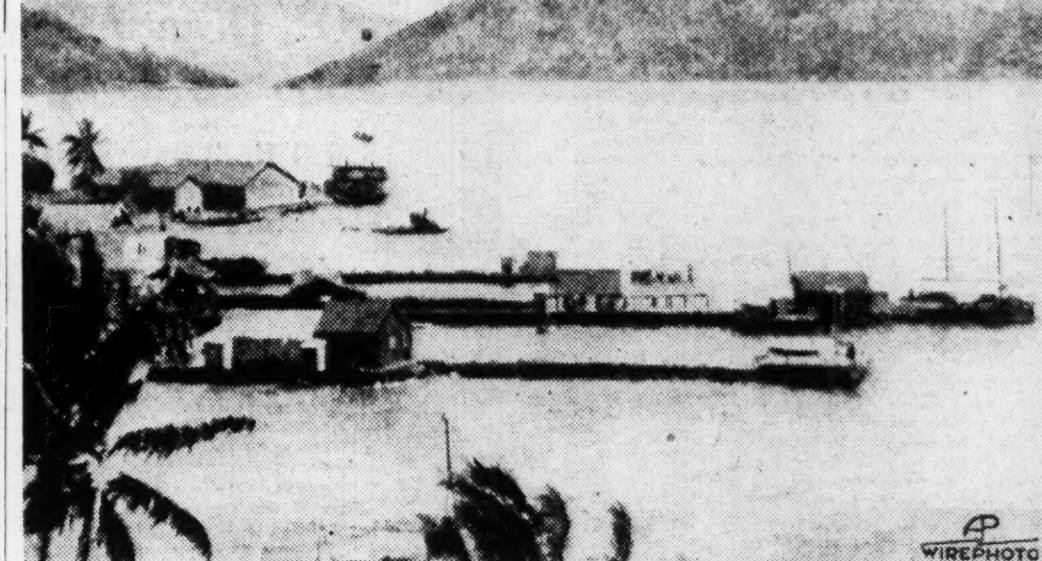

The board also ordered that the approximately 450 students attending Maddox Junior High school before it was razed by fire last spring, be assigned to O'Keefe Junior High school and the administration department was authorized to make shifts necessary to place the program into effect. O'Keefe has approximately 1,900 students.

The board authorized the Fulton County Executive Committee to hold the September 9 primary in city schools with a provision that any expense be met by the committee and not by the school department.

Higher Temperature Is Today's Forecast

Temperatures probably will rise today a little above the comfortable high reading of 88 degrees reached yesterday.

Official forecast is "slightly warmer, with scattered afternoon showers or thundershowers." The low reading last night was 68 degrees.

Police and Machinegunners Mass To Halt Bombay Rioting

Germans Push Toward Second Oil Field Goal

By EDDY GILMORE.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The mechanized German columns thrust today toward their second oil field objective, the rich Grozny wells of the east Caucasus foothills, while on the Black Sea coast the Russian fleet, fighting for survival, went into strong action to protect its menaced bases.

German troops striking southward in the Caucasus were reported officially to be only 200 miles from the Grozny wells. A communique announced the Germans had reached the Cherkessk area, 70 miles southeast of Armavir, in a thrust down the Rostovsk railway into the Caucasian foothills. (Cherkessk, not shown on many maps, apparently is a town often listed as Kuravka).

The Germans have said their troops had captured Pyatigorsk, only 140 miles short of Grozny, but there still was no confirmation here of that claim.

The Russians were fighting "heavy defensive battles both in the Cherkessk and Maikop areas," the communique said, and the Germans also "broke through our positions" in the Krasnodar sector 60 miles northwest of Maikop.

Soviet tankmen and Cossacks picked off 19 German tanks and 37 trucks and killed 700 Germans before withdrawing to new positions.

Lashing Ordered in Effort To End Disorders

BOMBAY, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The governor of populous Bombay province tonight ordered massed police patrols and British army machinegunners to use the strongest measures, including lashing, to quell disorders in this storm center of the Gandhi Free India campaign.

The stern new order came after troops and police had fired into many unruly crowds.

"I cannot allow this disturbance of the life of the city to continue," said the governor, Sir Roger Lumley.

"I am going to maintain order at any cost. To those, therefore, who may be thinking of going on with these disturbances, I now give this plain warning: The police and troops have orders to take the strongest measures whenever necessary."

In continuing clashes between civil disobedience demonstrators and the security forces, 13 more persons were killed and 30 injured today in 10 separate outbreaks.

This brought casualties in Bombay alone, since the first outbreaks Sunday upon the arrest of Mohandas K. Gandhi, to at least 31 dead and more than 250 injured, while more than 500 arrests have been made. There was no accurate count of casualties elsewhere in the teeming subcontinent.

Dr. R. R. Paty Is Elected Head Of Alabama U.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 11.—(AP)—By unanimous vote, Dr. Raymond R. Paty was elected president of the University of Alabama today at a meeting of the board of trustees.

The Birmingham educator and president of Birmingham-Southern College will succeed Dr. George H. Denny as university president September 1 or as soon thereafter as practicable, the board announced.

The election was a formality, since Dr. Paty was the choice of a subcommittee named by the trustees to select a new president following the death of Dr. Richard Foster several months ago.

Dr. Denny, who had served as president for more than 25 years prior to the appointment of Dr. Foster, will resume his post as chancellor. Dr. Paty's resignation at Birmingham-Southern was accepted today and George R. (Jack) Stuart, assistant to the president and dean of men, was elected to succeed him.

Sound Educator.

A statement by Birmingham-Southern trustees today said, in part:

"We commend Dr. Paty to the University of Alabama as a leader of men, an understanding friend of youth and one of the nation's soundest educators."

Dr. Paty is a former member of the faculty of Emory University, Atlanta, having served there eight years. He was dean of men at Emory when he was given leave of absence in 1935 to become director of the National Youth Administration for Georgia.

After returning to the Emory faculty in 1937, Dr. Paty resigned to become fellowship director of the Julius Rosenwald fund. He accepted the presidency of Birmingham-Southern in 1938.

Native of Tennessee.

A native of Tennessee, he was born at Bell Buckle, November 4, 1896. He studied at the University of Tennessee and received his bachelor's degree at Emory in 1921. He took a master's degree at Columbia University in 1927, and was awarded the LL. D. degree by Emory in 1938.

As an undergraduate, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa honorary society, Omicron Delta Kappa and Sigma Chi fraternity. After graduation from Emory, he founded and operated for eight years the Cumberland Mountain school, Crossville, Tenn.

Dr. Paty is married to the former Adelaide Pund, of Augusta, Ga., and has three daughters.

Americans Hold Gains in Face of Counterattack

By C. YATES McDANIEL.

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 11.—(AP)—United States landing forces held their footholds in the Solomon Islands tonight despite the force of Japanese counterattack, and the entire Allied striking force was pictured by an official spokesman as outpunching the Japanese.

(The Navy announced meanwhile in Washington that five air attacks and one naval bombardment of Japanese forces in the Aleutians recently had resulted in sinking one enemy cargo ship and damaging two others and in heavy damage to shore facilities.

(The U. S. losses were reported as one observation plane. The Japanese, in addition to their other losses, also had two four-engine seaplane bombers shot down by American pursuit craft but whether they were caught in the attacks on Japanese-held territory or in some separate action was not stated.)

"We are holding our own," said Prime Minister Curtin in the first word from an official source in Australia on the progress of the main offensive in the strategic island chain.

He interpreted Admiral Ernest J. King's preliminary announcement in Washington yesterday of losses on both sides in the developing land, sea and air fight as indicating that Allied gains so far had greatly outweighed losses.

Americans Land.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that American troops exclusively were engaged in the landings and the fight ashore for control of the vital area around Tulagi harbor, best fleet massing anchorage in the archipelago.

Australian naval units took part alongside the United States naval forces in the landings. Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, supreme commander of Allied naval forces in the south Pacific area.

Australian planes, too, were taking part along with American air forces. General MacArthur's command in a deadly battering of the whole vast system of Japanese concentration points stretching southeastward into the mountainous Solomons.

A communique today said Rabaul, big Japanese base in New Britain at the flank of the Solomon operations, had been pounded for the third consecutive day. The war bulletin also reported attacks on Japanese shipping south of Timor, more than 2,000 miles to the west, in which heavy destroyers and two Japanese merchantmen were knocked out.

Jungle Interior.

In the jungle-cloaked interior of New Guinea, too, Allied forces were said to have lashed out with attacks in the Kokoda sector yesterday, strongly engaging Japanese advance forces and driving them back.

Fresh supplies to keep the offensive moving were poured into Australia. An Australian spokesman said the new shipments were of "highest possible value" and would revolutionize offensive operations in the north.

There has been no official statement here of Allied losses or of losses inflicted upon the enemy in the Solomon battle since Admiral King's Washington announcement that an Allied cruiser was sunk and two destroyers, two destroyers and a transport were damaged. He spoke of "a large number" of enemy planes destroyed and Japanese surface units put out of action.

Representative Fish Wins Nomination In N. Y. Despite Intra-Party Opposition

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish overcame three opponents and intra-party opposition led by Wendell L. Wilkie tonight to win Republican renomination in President Roosevelt's home congressional district.

Widely attacked by rival candidates and many Republican leaders for what they termed his pre-war isolationist views, the veteran of 22 years in congress and caustic peacetime administration critic held a decisive lead after slightly more than half the primary vote was tabulated.

The vote in 122 of 223 districts was Fish, 9,366; Augustus W. Bennett, 3,682; Emerson D. Fite, 622, and Edward J. Bowen, 63.

Two other congressmen against whom the pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist cry was raised also were making strong bids for renomination.

One, Representative Edwin A.

HAMILTON FISH.

Hall, Republican, of Binghamton, polled a vote of 7,426 to 7,071 for John C. Stott in 174 of 288 precincts in the 34th district.

A Democrat, William B. Barry, in 46 of 548 districts in New York city's second largest congressional district held a lead of 2,346 to 857 votes over William F. Brunner.

Representative Edwin A. Hall, Republican, of Binghamton, another New York incumbent congressman seeking renomination and, like Fish, involved in a dispute over his pre-Pearl Harbor stand, was in a neck-and-neck race in the 34th district.

Hall, in 20 of 287 districts, led John C. Stott in a Republican contest by two votes, 1,745 to 1,743.

In four other states primaries decided political careers, although general interest centered in New York, where in addition to the Fish campaign there was the selection of delegates to the state Democratic convention August 19.

This involved a test of strength between the party's two gubernatorial candidates, Senator James

Holt Concedes

Defeat in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Attorney General Jack Holt conceded at 11:10 p. m. tonight that former Congressman John L. McClellan had won the Democratic nomination for United States senator in today's run-off primary.

With returns from approximately half the precincts in the state giving McClellan an 18,000-vote lead, Holt said the count "makes it obvious that John L. McClellan has been the choice of the people of Arkansas for United States senator."

"I extend to Mr. McClellan my sincerest congratulations," he said. The Associated Press 11:25 p. m. (CWT) tabulation, based on returns from 1,260 of the 2,149 precincts, gave: Holt 37,534, McClellan 61,246.

Elston, Vovys

Lead in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Two Ohio congressmen whose records had been assailed by their opponents as pre-war isolationist made strong bids for renomination tonight in early primary tabulations, but a third ran behind.

Out in front were Republicans Charles H. Elston, of the first district (Cincinnati), and John M. Vovys, of the twelfth (Columbus).

The trailing candidate was a Democrat, Martin L. Sweeney, of the twentieth (Cleveland).

Representative Elston, whose opponent called him the "Man Friday" of U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican, Ohio, received 2,235 votes in returns from WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Senators Maybank, Democrat, South Carolina, said today southern cotton farmers would be assured approximately $50 per ton for cottonseed through the Commodity Credit Corporation, if surpluses depressed the market.

Carrier 'Eagle' Sunk, German Report Claims

British Vessel Is Same Italians 'Sank' in January.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The German radio, in a special announcement, reported that the British aircraft carrier Eagle had been sunk by a German submarine today in the western Mediterranean. Four torpedoes hit the ship, the radio said.

The Eagle was in a strongly protected convoy and was attacked "at midday," according to the Germans.

The Eagle, completed in 1918, had a displacement of 22,600 tons with a complement of 748 and carried 21 aircraft.

As usual when German claims of this nature are made, British official circles said "no comment."

As long ago as January 16, 1941, the Italians claimed they sank the Eagle between Crete and Tobruk.

Last June 2 the German radio reported an unsuccessful attack on the vessel off Gibraltar.

Officers and crew of the Eagle were joyously hailed in June, 1929, by the whole Spanish nation after the carrier rescued Major Ramon Franco and three companions from their plane, forced down in the Azores during a transatlantic flight to New York.

The plane had drifted for seven days and the Spanish government had virtually given up hope for the men when the Eagle saved them.

Major Franco, a brother of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, was one of the leaders in the Spanish civil war. He was killed in a crash in the Mediterranean on October 30, 1938.

Of Armavir were favored somewhat by rougher terrain.

The Laba river and many swirling mountain streams that pour down from the high Caucasus offer natural obstacles to the German armies which are trying to advance from the Armavir region.

Until the Germans reached the Kuban they had terrain to their liking for the motor-mechanized forces which crossed the Don south of Rostov. But the Caucasian streams making use of potholes and rubber boats extremely hazardous.

With strong German forces also pointing toward the Black Sea naval bases of Novorossisk and Tuapse, approximately 60 miles distant from Krasnodar and Maikop, respectively, a Red fleet dispatched said that units of the Black Sea naval forces were supporting marines ashore in one sector.

These marines were said to have turned back the Germans in at least three places.

Units fighting in the Krasnodar area fired or wrecked 16 German tanks and in one sector repulsed five attacks.

Alpine Units.

Many German Alpine units were coming up with the reserve. Their presence suggested strongly that the Germans intend to drive into the main Caucasian mountain range, besides pushing down the trans-Caucasian railway to Grozny and the Caspian.

In London, British military source expressed belief that the Germans would try to drive through the Caucasus range to Tiflis with special tank and mountain troops while other forces headed across the foothills toward the Caspian.

At Tiflis the Germans would be in striking distance of Iraq and Syria, and could exert a pincer on the whole middle east in conjunction with the Rommel forces in Egypt.

The German high command said the Russians already had been thrown back into the mountains in some sectors of the Maikop area, and claimed one group had been cut off and destroyed. It also was contended that German air raiders had descended on Russian ships embarking troops from Black sea ports, sinking 11 transports and damaging nine.

(Radio Vichy said the Germans were within 40 to 50 miles of the naval base of Novorossisk and within 30 miles of the naval station at Tuapse.)

Bloodiest Fighting.

Some of the bloodiest fighting of the whole southern campaign was taking place on the two fronts before Stalingrad.

The sector south of Kletskaya, 75 miles northwest of Stalingrad, was a land aflame, with cherry orchards and the steppe houses of Cossacks crushed and burning, and the sky black with German planes. One German breakthrough was acknowledged in this sector, but Soviet cavalry was reported blocking German efforts to outflank the defenders, and in one area 36 out of an attacking force of 60 Nazi tanks were wrecked by antitank fire.

Northeast of Kletskaya, which is 95 miles southwest of Stalingrad, the Red army forward wall was reported holding firm against heavy tank and infantry attacks, while rearward groups mopped up small groups of German parachutists. Russian tanks in a surprise attack cut off a German force which had wedged into the Soviet positions. Red army artillery poured shells into the area and a Russian bayonet charge wiped out the Germans. One tank battle in this area raged for 40 hours.

Red Cross Unit Being Trained Under Blackout Conditions

By JEANNE OSBORNE.

Monday, and with finality at the big, citywide blackout, scheduled for August 24.

A shortage of first-aid workers considerably slowed down the last whitout test of August 3. "A delay in attending to at least six of the air raid 'victims' might have caused actual loss of life if the raid had been real," explained Nealey.

"We aim to eliminate such delays in these refresher courses."

The class is not learning just a lot of theories. The students will have an opportunity to show their mettle in attending to real life casualties when they "go shopping" for victims in the receiving room of Grady hospital Saturday night, when the influx of the injured is at its height. "I want them to get used to the sight of blood so that they won't faint if we ever have a real air raid," said Nealey.

Bandage Application.

Yesterday they were busily engaged in applying bandages to the entire body. Stretched out on their blankets in the murkiness, they looked like mummies, so swathed were they in bandages.

Instructions on how to remove the danger of shock are slated for the rest of the week. Nealey also will teach them the use of tannic acid for burns and traction splinting for fractures, techniques, newly inaugurated into Red Cross courses.

Although this is one of the most difficult of Red Cross courses, these students are conscientious and sincere, according to their instructor. "They are not going into this course just because someone else is doing it. They have a real desire to accomplish something in the motor corps, which to many of them has become a career," he asserted.

Importance of Technique.

Since a motor transport driver is usually the first to arrive on the scene after an accident (the doctor gets there about 30 minutes later) and since she might be injured herself, it is very important for her to have first-aid technique at her fingertips, Nealey explained.

The classes, which are blacked-out except for flashlights with dark tissue paper tied over the business end, will form a precedent for other refresher courses to be given soon. Nealey also hopes the idea will serve as a stimulus to the civilian population to take first-aid and rescue work under actual blackout conditions.

The success or failure of the course, in which 45 students are engaged, will be demonstrated practically in the whitout next

Monday, and with finality at the big, citywide blackout, scheduled for August 24.

A shortage of first-aid workers considerably slowed down the last whitout test of August 3. "A delay in attending to at least six of the air raid 'victims' might have caused actual loss of life if the raid had been real," explained Nealey.

"We aim to eliminate such delays in these refresher courses."

The class is not learning just a lot of theories. The students will have an opportunity to show their mettle in attending to real life casualties when they "go shopping" for victims in the receiving room of Grady hospital Saturday night, when the influx of the injured is at its height. "I want them to get used to the sight of blood so that they won't faint if we ever have a real air raid," said Nealey.

Bandage Application.

Yesterday they were busily engaged in applying bandages to the entire body. Stretched out on their blankets in the murkiness, they looked like mummies, so swathed were they in bandages.

Instructions on how to remove the danger of shock are slated for the rest of the week. Nealey also will teach them the use of tannic acid for burns and traction splinting for fractures, techniques, newly inaugurated into Red Cross courses.

Although this is one of the most difficult of Red Cross courses, these students are conscientious and sincere, according to their instructor. "They are not going into this course just because someone else is doing it. They have a real desire to accomplish something in the motor corps, which to many of them has become a career," he asserted.

Importance of Technique.

Since a motor transport driver is usually the first to arrive on the scene after an accident (the doctor gets there about 30 minutes later) and since she might be injured herself, it is very important for her to have first-aid technique at her fingertips, Nealey explained.

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 12, 1942.

"The Immediate Future"

Major General Carl Spaatz, commander of United States air forces in the European theater of war, asserted this week that American fighter and bomber planes will join the RAF in blasting Germany from the air "in the immediate future."

Fulfillment of that promise cannot come too soon for the American people.

There is full realization among Americans at home that a tremendous task of preparation was necessary before the new AEF of the air could be ready for the offensive. Not only had planes to be constructed, men trained to operate them and men and machines both transported to Britain, but the ground preparations there involved vast detail and work.

But the advance work is almost done. It will not be long before America is thrilled anew with the news that American fighting men are on a new offensive, in the air.

This, with the attack on the Solomon Islands in the Pacific, constitute the most significant war developments of the year. For they both signify the coming of the turning point, that hour when American forces abandon their hitherto strictly defensive roles and adopt the offensive—without which victory can never come.

—ALL MUST WORK FOR VICTORY!—

Set Precedent

A considerable percentage of the American public expected only light punishment for the eight Nazi saboteurs.

Others, aware of what Uncle Sam really is like when he is mad, predicted just the treatment they received.

What fooled us all, though, was the swiftness with which the Army carried out the verdict after it finally was reached—and approved by President Roosevelt.

There was no stalling then. Everything was done with precision. No official announcement was made until the executions were over. It's the way it should have been done.

The length of the trial showed Uncle Sam was a little rusty in carrying out such measures, but he knew what he was doing.

Chances are, if it had been a hurried case, much of the evidence gathered from two of the witnesses would have gone uncovered.

Uncle Sam was slow. The spies were on trial for a month. In Germany a similar verdict would have been reached in a split second.

Uncle Sam is a little more polished now. He's read up on his law a little. He knows what he can do with enemies who come to this country in wartime to destroy industry and morale.

Other saboteurs now know the fate that awaits them. They will think twice before coming to our shores in submarines to carry out Hitler's orders.

More spies are in our midst. They will be slyer than ever. But there will be fewer Max Stephans to harbor them.

Uncle Sam is slow, but he will find them sooner or later. He will know what to do with them, too. The verdict is established now. Uncle Sam has read up on his law.

A Lot of Scrap

Action of the War Production Board in taking title to more than 500,000 pounds of scrap metal in automobile "graveyards" of Georgia focuses attention on a phase of the war problem that cannot be laughed off or "sluffed" over.

Government officials who requisitioned these stocks of vital material pointed out they contain enough scrap to build 100 tanks. That is a lot of tanks. It looms much larger in view of the struggle now going on in Russia, the struggle that went on in France, and the present situation of the United Nations on the sands of Libya.

It is discouraging that the government is forced to step in and bring about a result that should be achieved by willing co-operation. The persons who are responsible for such things fail to realize they play into the hands of our enemies. In the final analysis, it is just as treasonable to delay or obstruct the war effort as it is to directly aid an enemy. Most persons are aware of this. Those who are not should be made aware in a way they will never forget.

The Marines Have Landed

"The Marines have landed. . ."

Once again the Leathernecks have thrilled the nation, once again they have taken the flag to foreign beachheads, opening the way for the troops to follow. But behind the bare statement there is quite a story.

It starts on the South Carolina coast, at Parris Island first, the great training school where there isn't a minute of coddling; it proceeds off the North Carolina coast where the landing boats are in constant use training the toughest fighting men the world has ever known how to get ashore, alive if possible, but helping others get through regardless.

Then it shifts to great convoys moving south. When the plans are made, the transports are filled again and the files of destroyers and cruisers weave alongside. The submarines are ahead. The planes are overhead. The carriers are somewhere near with their own escorts. The land-based bombers start the softening up blows. The land-based fighters get their auxiliary tanks for the longer flights.

When the time comes the destroyers move inshore, the transports stand between the lighter warships and the cruisers, which lie farther off-shore. All the warships are pounding the enemy coast. Dive bombers scream down on enemy batteries, fighter planes scorch the beaches with cannon and machinegun fire, heavy bombers and divers smash airports and enemy ships. Motor torpedo boats and destroyers lay a heavy smoke screen, and through the smoke the landing parties move for the shore. Some landing boats carry men, others light artillery, others tanks, others jeeps. Some tanks swim in under their own power. They hit the shore and the work of shoving back the enemy begins. Radio calls up dive bombers and fighter planes to help to wipe out machineguns and batteries, and slowly, but surely, the beaches are taken and the Marines move inland. Marine parachutists from land bases already hold the airports inland. If possible, ports are taken and made ready for the landing of heavier units. If not, the troops have to get ashore on the beaches. The difference is that the troops do not have to take them first—at least they haven't yet, but the Marines are teaching them how.

These things aren't done without losses. Heavy losses. It is the price America must pay for former shortsightedness. It isn't a pleasant price, this price of blood. Men and ships are the price.

But that is the Marines. They land, with what they humorously term some slight help from the Navy. The flag is on Florida Island, and the other islands near by. There probably are air bases even now, improvised by the Marines who took the flag to that spot in the South Pacific. They'll stay, just as they stayed at Midway. There'll be enough, and enough guns and planes. It won't be another Guam.

But remember Guam when the casualty lists come in, as they needs must. And remember the Fishs and the Clarks and the Borahs who would not fortify that important island base. The Marines and the Navy paid in blood for their mistakes.

And when the Marines pass, pay tribute to the greatest fighting outfit in the world. They all know how to take the flag to the beaches and land. There isn't one who hasn't been taught how to go, when necessary, from Atlanta to Tokyo.

The great American cheese is to be glorified in the two weeks beginning August 17. It will be better, we believe, to leave names out of this, and personalities.

Georgia Editors Say:

THOSE WHO SERVE

(From The Lyons Progress.)

It has been said that the gravest offenses are those which are printed; those who serve the public in journalism often offend their public because of misunderstanding on the part of the reader. Those who serve the public in any capacity often offend when their motives were purely noble and innocent. Often it happens that a writer's choice of words might be considered badly chosen and readers take offense at the writer's linguistic usage.

Even though innocently misjudged, those who serve the public are ever conscious that for those which are printed; those who serve the public in journalism often offend their public because of misunderstanding on the part of the reader. Those who serve the public in any capacity often offend when their motives were purely noble and innocent. Often it happens that a writer's choice of words might be considered badly chosen and readers take offense at the writer's linguistic usage.

The Lyons Progress force realizes that conditions and circumstances also play a part in attitudes of readers, and often the linguistic usage is a misfit to the tastes of the one concerned. We believe the reading public will always appreciate the fact that to submit articles for public criticism before publication is an utter impossibility in journalism.

Suffice it to say that any conscientious newspaper and the force behind the "guns" in the publication have only noble purposes by which they are motivated; a newspaper wants the news about people and things, and if offenses come after an honest effort to spread this news to the public, the agents have no tinge of conscience—those who serve will ever be targets of criticism.

Any newspaper would serve better with temperance in venom and unlimited and unstinted co-operation.

WASHINGTON PARADE

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WALLACE AND TALMADGE WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Vice President Wallace might well have had the state of Georgia and Governor Talmadge in mind when he wrote a passage of his recent "Price of Freedom Victory" speech which since has attracted world-wide attention.

Mr. Wallace was speaking of the demagogues and dictators whose foul deeds have forced upon the world the bloody mess in which we are now engaged. He was condemning not only them, but the people of wealth whose contributions to their early political beginnings made it possible for them to first grasp and then usurp governmental power.

What he said seems to have a pointed application to the two or three men of wealth in Georgia who are now making contributions to the Talmadge campaign.

It is easy, declared the Vice President, for demagogues to arise and prostitute the mind of the common man to their own base ends. Such a demagogue may get financial help from some person of wealth who is unaware of what the end result may be.

The demagogue is the curse of the modern world, and of all the demagogues, the worst are those financed by well-meaning wealthy men who sincerely believe that their wealth is likely to be safer if they can hire men with political 'it' to change the sign posts and lure the people back into slavery of the most degraded kind.

Unfortunately for the wealthy men who finance movements of this sort, as well as for the people themselves, the successful demagogue is a powerful genie who, when once let out of his bottle, refuses to obey anyone's command. As long as his spell holds, he defies God Himself, and Satan is turned loose upon the world.

TALMADGE CONTRIBUTIONS Without this backing, Mr. Wallace infers, the demagogue would never be able to dominate the minds of the people, and "from whatever degree of freedom they have," lead them backward into slavery.

He cites the case of Herr Thyssen, the pre-war German steel magnate. Herr Thyssen, he says, little realized what he was doing when he gave Hitler enough money to enable him to play on the minds of the German people.

Hitler rose to power through contributions to his political campaigns made by Herr Thyssen. Later Herr Thyssen, because of disagreement with the Nazi regime, was divested of his properties and forced into retirement.

Vice President Wallace's sober remarks seem to have more than a casual bearing on the Georgia situation. All of the ingredients of the things against which he warns—demagogues and dictators—are found in the present gubernatorial campaign. The difference is only a matter of degree. People of wealth are making contributions to the Talmadge campaign on the theory that it is safer to hire men who will try to change the sign posts in their favor.

Webster defines a demagogue as one who leads the populace by pandering to their prejudices and passions. There can be no argument about Talmadge fitting the definition. His attempt to inject the racial issue into the campaign is evidence enough on this score. His roughshod ousting of university professors and various state officials in the past stamps him indelibly with the dictator's complex.

ODDS WITH PRESIDENT But his demagoguery is illustrated inversely no less than directly. There is, for example, no doubt how he feels about the Roosevelt administration. He has been at odds with the President since the Roosevelt first term, he has thrown innumerable obstacles in the path of federal and state co-operation.

And yet, feeling as he does about the President and most things under the New Deal, he dares not raise the issue from the lessons he learned in two previous campaigns. Senator Russell trounced him severely on the issue six years ago. Two years later he was unable to get anywhere when he waged a similar campaign for Senator George's seat.

No one in Washington regards Governor Talmadge as having been converted to the New Deal cause during the past four years. He is not pandering to the prejudices and passions of the populace on this score now because he has come to realize that the people don't like it. Twice they defeated him for office when he was more honestly outspoken in his views.

Vice President Wallace may or may not have had Georgia in mind when he said that "the demagogue is the curse of the modern world." Whether he did or not, there is little doubt that he named Talmadge personally he would have expressed the wholehearted sentiments of the Roosevelt administration.

WANTS PEGLER ELIMINATED

Editor, Constitution: I have always liked your paper and especially your editorials. I've taken your paper for years and my father before me, but I think I'll have to quit if you continue to use Westbrook Pegler's column.

There's nothing constructive I've been able to see in his column. Yet there seems to be a subtle hint of seditious character in his writings.

We Americans have got to be careful and give our country and government our fullest co-operation and efforts now.

We all know that everything that's done by our government or anyone else is not perfect, but criticizing our leaders and their families in a time like this does not seem to me to be the proper thing to do. I'm not telling you how to run your paper and please don't tell me.

Like I've stated, I like your paper and have enjoyed and appreciated it very much. This is just the way I feel about Pegler.

However, I may be wrong. I guess I would like to be successful in my work as he has been in his. But I do think I would use a different way than criticism and telling the bad on a person all the time as he does. Maybe he's one of these kind that has never made a mistake.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Getting NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—There is quite a campaign running against Joseph Medill Patterson, the publisher of the New York Daily News. Some congressmen got up the other day and said he was a Hitlerite and Patterson, who is no boy but a big fellow and always keeps himself in pretty good shape, replied with an editorial in which he called the congressman a liar and invited him to step outside.

For the rest, the campaign is running in a little journalistic quarry published by Marshall Field, who, all of a sudden, a couple of years ago, came down with a mission. The party is getting pretty rough and possibly, before it is over, we shall have a repetition of some of those picturesque journalistic and personal brawls which enlivened the issues during the War Between the States.

That anyone could accuse Patterson of any sympathy with the enemies of his country is just proof that somebody is losing his mental balance in the excitement of the war, because Patterson's family is strictly American from 'way back; he was a combat soldier in the other war for which he enlisted as a buck private, and for years he kept up a monotonous din in his Monday morning editorials, pointing to the menace of Japan, and always winding up with the tagline "two ships for one." He also carried for years, as an item of his paper's platform, Decatur's line about "my country right or wrong," and he is no cheap and mouthy patriot who would do that for circulation and profit, but a standup American who means it.

Was New Deal

The odd thing is that all the way down the line from 1932 to the third term, Patterson was a thick-and-thin New Dealer himself. Long after his cousin, Bert McCormick, who runs the Chicago Tribune, got off the New Deal and started fighting President Roosevelt's policies, Patterson supported the administration and the President personally. He showed his sincerity by going New Deal in his newspaper shop where he encouraged the Newspaper Guild even when its leadership and policies were consistent with the Communist party line, and gave the guild an agreement amounting to a closed shop.

This burned up a lot of good newspaper people who had been with him long before the guild was thought of and who had no gripe against him and had always been able to go to him, personally, without the services of a bargaining agent for the adjustment of any trouble. After the shop went guild the personal relationship between Jump, as they call him, and the staff underwent a change which is hard to describe. The relations didn't exactly cool off, but a happy newspaper shop became more like a factory. An old-timer who went back to the News looking for a job on the copy desk was turned down, but given occasional work on the extra list because his health wasn't up to par.

"It is on account of the group insurance," he said. "The insurance company ducks a fellow who is a bad risk. It is like trying to get into West Point now."

Accused As Jingo

"Way back there, even before the New Deal, Patterson's editorials clamored so loudly for weapons and soldiery for this country's defense that he was accused of being a jingo. People said he was just a reckless nut who wouldn't mind kicking up a war in which a million other Americans might be killed, just so he could die in battle."

It took gumption to advocate militarism then because, as you may remember, some of the same party-waisted, he-shreds-of-the-past war party, the poets, philosophers and dilettantes, were sneering at patriotism, denouncing the other war as the work of J. P. Morgan and insisting that a nation with arms would surely pick a fight so as to use them, whereas an unarmed nation would shame the others into disarmament. He also advocated military training for the CCC and every once in a while he would let fly an editorial proposing additional West Points and Annapolises.

He even defended Jimmy Roosevelt's rank as a colonel of the Marine Corps Reserve and his appointment to a job at $10,000 a year as the President's secretary. He said, hence the rank meant nothing and Jimmy had to have enough of it to enable him to stand alongside and give his father his ram at diplomatic functions. He said it was all right for the President to put his own boy on the pay roll because the salary was only peanuts, anyway, and a father naturally would have total confidence in his son.

Second Fronter

As I understand it, Jump got off the President on his pre-war policy. He seems to believe Mr. Roosevelt could have kept us out of war and that he knew we were headed straight for war when, in the last campaign, he was going around saying American boys would not be sent to fight on foreign soil. But, apart from being off the President, he has been all for the war since Pearl Harbor and has been one of those clamoring recently for a second front, which would be a strange attitude for a Nazi.

Of course, he isn't a Nazi or a pro-Nazi, and he is a rugged 100 per center of the purest and most vigorous American patriotism, but when such a man with such a record can be so accused you begin to look for guys under the bed and behind doors. As a matter of fact, that kind of stuff is Hitlerism, for Hitler, himself, wrote that the way to get an opponent was to tell a big lie about him and, keep on telling it.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

SOLOMON ISLANDS BEACHHEADS As I write, the last word to arrive from the Solomon Islands is an unconfirmed, rather vague, announcement that the Allies are having "some success" in the attack on the islands, but that the Japanese are offering strong resistance and are bringing up reinforcements.

It might be of interest to clear up just one point.

There seems to be an impression that by establishing a beachhead on the Solomon Islands, the Marines have no more than reached the beach and occupy a small point. That used to be the meaning of the term "beachhead."

This maneuver is a "beachhead" and it involves the most elaborate sort of planning. Usually it involves two or three beaches not one.

The depth of penetration might be anything from 200, or even less yards, to two miles or more. The width may vary as much as the depth of penetration.

What they are after, when they land, is some dominating terrain, or beachheads . . . that is, heads of land with the men from them come ashore are, of course, mortar units 37 mm. cannon, machineguns and automatic rifles.

Behind the men come the artillery units. They are rushed forward to the elevated terrain and take up the defense for the men who have been holding them with their smaller equipment.

When enough men, artillery and tanks have been landed, the plan then is for the artillery to blast the way for the advance to the next most advantageous terrain.

"SLIGHT ELEMENT OF SURPRISE"

The Marines apparently made landings on two or three beaches.

Only the most meager reports have come through. There was a hint there was an element of surprise in the establishment of the main beachhead.

One may but guess. It is possible there was a feint at one position and the beachhead was then established at a beach not so well guarded.

The plans for such a move as the one in the Solomon Islands must be the most elaborate sort of plans. They would require weeks of study of tides and of prevailing and varying winds.

There must be the most careful study of charts, the location of reefs, shoals and large rocks. There must be accurate information as to the tides and the exact moments when they would begin to ebb and flow; when they would be at flood, and so on.

All these factors would be of the utmost importance and any plan which did not include them would be doomed to failure.

The movements likely would be begun at night and the attack made just before dawn. There would, of course, be the most meticulous sort of attempt at deception.

There would have to be the most skillful sort of timing so that the bombers would be over the airports on the islands just at dawn. It is not likely the Japanese there were equipped for night-fighting.

That the bombers did so arrive is indicated by the report that a large number of aircraft were destroyed, presumably on the ground.

It is sure that different routes were used to bring in the transports and their escorting destroyers and cruisers. The cruisers would be necessary to bring into play the heavier guns for use against the land batteries used by the Japanese.

Submarines undoubtedly were with the naval detachments to work against Japanese warships and more particularly against Japanese transports which might bring up reserves from other islands.

The Japanese are reported to be doing. One may hope, with some assurance, that submarines will exact a toll of these transports.

The fabric of the plan is vast. The technique of it is involved and difficult. Apparently we fitted it together well. We got a jump. How much of one we may only guess.

AIR FORCE WILL DECIDE

While the fighting rages, with Japanese counterattacks, the air force will decide. The Japanese are reported to be doing. One may hope, with some assurance, that submarines will exact a toll of these transports.

The Rich Man's Children Are Not Safe If Poor Men's Children Have Typhus

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

The New Deal plan to build Utopia in eight years failed in some particulars, as the first plan of Communism failed in Russia, because the planners did not know the human material with which they had to work.

They based their plans on the "rags to riches" saga that dominated American fiction for a century or more. They had seen poor men with no advantage but a little credit work their way up to prosperous security. And they assumed that all poor men, given the means and the opportunity, would build their own Utopia without any prodding.

The fighting is of the utmost importance. A defeat would be a most serious blow to prestige and morale. The way back is going to be hard and bloody. But go back we must if we are to live as a nation and a people.

So the planners came down to reality: doled out a week's or month's supplies at a time; and appointed supervisors to tell these people how to live and what to plant and when and how. Thus guided, most of them became self-supporting.

Their children may not grow rich but given the advantage of decent homes, and sent to school for at least seven years, they will develop self-respect instead of the fierce and touchy pride of the consensually inferior, and most of them will become sound citizens.

In a free land, where one man's vote equals another's, the first duty of government is to develop good citizens—not only for the benefit of the individuals themselves, but for the good of the whole people. Five thousand good citizens cannot build a civilization if ten thousand bad citizens vote against them.

The most selfish and heartless and class-proud citizen should gladly become his brother's keeper if the unkept would become a menace to all that he holds dear.

OFF THE RECORD—By Ed Reed

"As long as we're on different shifts, you'd better use the back door so this won't happen every morning!"

Dudley Glass

Driving in my family having consisted principally, in the last few months, of journeys to the store and back, I am in no position to discuss the difference in tire wear and gas consumption between a 40-m. p. h. rate and stepping on her for 70. But I am reliably informed by experts in the public press that the slower you run—within reasonable limits—the less it costs you.

But there, of course, is the time element. Time is money, said Aristotle or Ben Franklin or maybe it was Mohandas Gandhi.

That would be true in many cases. Time is valuable. If a visitor to a factory is permitted to engage a skilled workman in debate over an insurance policy or plans for a fishing trip that worker's lost time does mean money—whether his boss loses it or the worker. That time is gone forever.

But I deny that time is of immense value to the average man. I don't mean the man turning out a job on the machines.

My fixed conviction is that the average chap around an office, from the boss to the office boy, spends two hours a day working and six getting ready to work or complaining about how hard he is worked or going out for a cup of coffee or its equivalent.

There are times, I'll concede, when work is strenuous and time is of the essence, as the lawyers say. There are statements to get out, letters to type and get signed, ledgers to post up to date. In a newspaper shop there is a lot of loafing, waiting for something to break. Just before first edition deadline there is feverish activity. That is not the fault of the staff. Most men and women would rather be busy than loafing. But you can't print the news before it happens, popular opinion to the contrary.

But getting back to highway speed. On various occasions I have loafed, fished, bathed and slumbered at St. Simons or some other coast resort 300 miles away. The date for return arrives.

So we get up early, take a final dip, pack up our belongings and start the car at 8 a. m. We had planned on 7 a. m., but you know how things go. Somebody balls up the works. We have lost a whole hour getting away. That hour looms up like a marble monument in a country graveyard. It will never be recovered.

Must Hurry Up

So we get started at 8 a. m. We begin to figure. Three hundred miles at 50 m. p. h. means six hours. But we must figure on a few stops and delays. We can't average 50 if we keep the speedometer on that. So we figure 60 will be about right. Then we hit a fine stretch of straight highway and the needle creeps to 70. Everything is running fine, the tires are new and sturdy. The motor is like a young mule returning to its stable and supper. It wants to go. Maybe 75 or 80—for the good stretches—wouldn't be bad.

So we roll into our driveway at 1:30 p. m. We've saved half an hour over the six we'd figured.

So what? We're not due on the job until tomorrow morning. The Mistress of the Manor must drive to the creek and do a bit of grocery shopping. But what else? We have beaten our record and saved hours. And what are we going to do with them?

If we had been gifted with ordinary common or horse sense we'd have loafed along at 40, dropped in at various towns to say "howdy" to friends, taken a look at points of interest, and rolled into home shortly before midnight. But we never had that kind of sense, if any.

My elder son, when he used to pick me up downtown and drive home, had the hurry-up complex. Driving out Spring street and Peachtree road he'd let nothing interfere with him. He'd cut in and out of traffic, despite my protests, and he'd reach our turn-off fully two minutes ahead of that furniture van he'd passed at Walton street.

Two precious minutes! And what would he do with them? Why, he'd romp with the current dog five minutes and then hunt up last Sunday's funny papers which he hadn't found time to peruse before.

Lady of Avoirdupois

Are fat women just naturally bigger than fat men or do they just look that way?

Perhaps you just notice them more closely. But did you ever pay a dime to see a fat man in a circus sideshow? No, it's always the world's fattest woman.

This essay on avoirdupois was inspired by a sight on Broad street a few afternoons ago. And I mean a sight.

The sidewalk is wide there, but this woman just ahead of me blocked progress like a furniture van on a country road.

I don't know how much she weighed but she'd have used up most of a yardstick across her widest point. And, like most large objects, she moved slowly.

This, I fully realize, is none of my business. Some people are just naturally inclined to take on weight with years. The object of my observation probably is a good mother—and maybe grandmother—a fine neighbor and thoroughly set on the road to heaven.

But still I can't help wondering how she ever gets through a revolving door.

Georgian Places Second In FFA Speaking Test

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.

AUBURN, Ala., Aug. 11.—Douglas Oswald, president of the Marianna, Fla., chapter of FFA, triumphed over opponents from Alabama and Georgia in the Future Farmers' annual tri-state public speaking contest held here.

Speaking in Langdon hall before a large gathering of vocational agriculture students and teachers, the youthful orator won the right to enter southern regional competition with delivery of his address on "Food for Freedom."

Second place was won by the Georgia representative, W. P. Blackburn Jr., of Baldwin, who spoke on "What Shall Be the Fifth Column of America," and third place went to Dan Easterling, of Clio, president of the Alabama FFA, whose subject was "Agriculture and the War Effort."

Good Morning

By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

MACEDONIA IN COWETA.

Macedonia Baptist church dedicated its beautiful and commodious new meeting house last Sunday, and I had the privilege, along with some thousand other Georgians, of being among those present.

The church is located about three miles west of Newnan, in one of the finest farming communities in Georgia. The church was constituted in 1827, and has always been a strong church for the reason that it has always been composed of exceptionally fine people who own their farms and live on them. It would do your heart good to drive along the roads of that neighborhood and see the homes and the fields and the livestock, but best of all, the people.

Macedonia is a fine old Greek word, meaning "extended," and what has happened at Macedonia Baptist church is a veritable illustration of the meaning of the name by which they have called this church for more than a century. The former meeting house burned about a year ago, and when they started in to replace the building, they considered thoughtfully the meaning of the church to the community. The first suggestion of the amount necessary to erect a building was $3,000, but when they considered the matter further, they agreed that it would require a larger sum of money to provide a building adequate to the needs of the young people and the whole congregation. When they completed the building and equipped it, they found that they had expended something more than $9,000. And everything was paid for.

The Rev. W. W. Chandler is pastor of the church. J. Marvin Starr, superintendent of the schools in Coweta county, was chairman of the building committee. W. J. Moore is chairman of the board of deacons. Mrs. L. P. Sewell is superintendent of the Sunday school. Mrs. T. J. Sewell is president of the Woman's Missionary Society. W. B. Witcher is clerk, and Felton Sewell and Miss Ruby Sewell are treasurers of the church.

The building is first-class from foundation to steeple. It is situated on a hill, just the right distance from the highway, in a grove of trees. All the lumber in the building is long leaf pine. The walls are brick. The roof is asbestos. The flooring, interior finish and pews are made of the finest long leaf pine. The ceiling is colotex. I would say that it is, perhaps, the finest country church meeting house in the state. It is the old Macedonia, extended.

It was an inspiring picture which we beheld there last Sunday. A number of my people from Druid Hills went down for the day—folks whose ancestors lived in the Macedonia community. And there were hundreds of other descendants of the community, now living in various sections of Georgia, who "went back home" last Sunday. The fellowship of the big crowd was inspiring. They stood under the trees and talked of other days. At the dinner hour, they gathered about one of the most bountiful boards I have ever seen spread in Georgia, and I have seen lots of them. Fine cooks had done their best, and the barbecue, lamb, beef and pork, the baked and fried chicken, the home-made breads, the many kinds of salads, the cakes and pies, the coffee, iced tea and lemonade, together with all sorts of pickles and preserves, furnished the big crowd with much more than the expectant appetites could handle. It was a great day—a day to do one's heart good.

Four Chicago Boys Given 10-15 Years

Youths Convicted of Overpowering, Robbing DeKalb Officers.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.

FORSYTH, Ga., Aug. 11.—Four Chicago boys who overpowered and robbed two DeKalb county policemen June 19 today were sentenced to serve from 10 to 15 years each by Judge Ogden Persons in Monroe county superior court.

The youths, ranging in age from 16 to 19 years, showed not a flicker of emotion as the jury found them guilty and Judge Persons pronounced the sentences. Their names are Stanley Koscienc, Bruno Gnatek, Frederick Hoppe, and Robert Proskowitz.

They were charged with armed robbery, which carries a maximum penalty of death in Georgia, after they overpowered DeKalb Policemen Ben Hensler and Hoyt Sutton, near Forsyth, as the two officers were bringing them back from Jacksonville to Decatur to be tried on charges of burglary. The boys took the officers' guns and tied the policemen to a tree, after first threatening to shoot them.

The Chicagoans all told the same story in Judge Persons court. They entered pleas of "not guilty" to the charges, but each said on the witness stand they had planned to overcome the officers en route to Decatur because they had been told they would get 10 to 15-year sentences for burglary in Georgia. They got the same sentences from Judge Persons, but for more serious charges.

Solicitor General Roy C. Leathers, of DeKalb county, aided Frank B. Willingham, of the Monroe superior court, in the prosecution.

Woman Amputates Own Foot With 6-Inch Fisherman's Knife

JACKSONVILLE, N. C., Aug. 11. (AP)—The condition of Mrs. C. J. Thompson, 32, who calmly cut off her foot at the ankle with a six-inch fisherman's knife after it became entangled in the driving mechanism of a motor boat, showed improvement tonight.

Attached at the New River Marine Base hospital, to which Mrs. Thompson was taken for treatment, said that a gangrene condition apparently had eased and that another operation probably would not be necessary.

Physicians said the gangrene was the result of the woman's wearing a tight tourniquet on her leg for three hours after the self-performed amputation.

Immediately after arrival at the hospital, Mrs. Thompson underwent a second operation for removal of the leg at a point just below the knee. This was made necessary, it was explained, because the muscles of the leg had been badly injured by the boat machinery.

Mrs. Thompson, who made her living by fishing, was accompanied by a 16-year-old boy whom she had engaged to operate the boat when her slacks were caught in the drive shaft and her foot became entangled in the engine's set screw.

Unable to free herself, she took the fisherman's knife which had a jagged edge and sawed through the flesh and bone of her leg. She then tore a strip of cloth from her blouse and made a tourniquet to stop the bleeding. A near-by boatman, called by the boy, took her to the Marine hospital, 16 miles away.

Gallup Poll Reveals:

Henderson Favored by Public

By GEORGE GALLUP.

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

job has Leon Henderson done as head of the Office of Price Administration?

Not Enough Power.

Approximately one-third said they had no opinion on Henderson's work but a sizable proportion of these—one in every four—said they thought the price control program itself did not go far enough or give Henderson enough power.

The results, including those without opinions, are:

Good job or doing best he can with his powers 54%

Poor job 16%

No opinion 30%

If the tabulation is confined to those who expressed definite opinions on Henderson, the results are 77 per cent favorable, 23 per cent unfavorable.

Prices Too High.

Henderson himself has said that because, under the rationing program, he must deny Americans many things they want, he expects to be one of the most disliked men in the country before the war is over. Judging by today's survey results, he has relatively little to fear for the moment.

The chief criticism voiced by the voters in the survey is that some prices were set too high and are not fair to the consumer. There is also some criticism of the gasoline rationing program as handled by OPA. This comes from voters in the rationed areas who either do not approve of rationing or think it has not been handled fairly.

Those voters who have a favorable attitude toward Henderson indicate that they judge him mainly by results. They say that prices have been kept fairly well in line and are not as high as they were in the last war, and that Henderson is "doing his best to prevent inflation."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

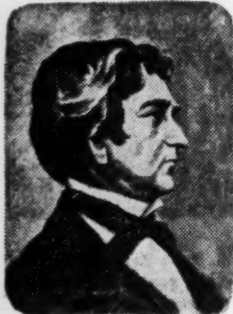

Many sufferers relate amazing backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows that the kidneys are something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes get out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LINCOLN'S SECRETARY OF STATE

once played hookey in Georgia

William H. Seward

As a boy, William H. Seward, who became Secretary of State under Abraham Lincoln, ran away from Union College in New York State because students ridiculed his homespun clothes and his father wouldn't do anything about it. After hitching his way to New York City he sailed to Savannah, and from there hiked to Eatonton.

Concealing his youthful age, he applied for and was appointed principal of a new academy which was about to be opened. William lost no time in sending the impressive newspaper announcement to his father. That irate gentleman immediately wrote to the trustees of the academy, informed them that his son was a runaway student, unable to perform a principal's duties, and threatened to prosecute unless the lad was sent home. William's friendly sponsors would have favored his case, but another letter from the north revealed the sudden illness of his mother. William returned, reentered Union College and graduated. His brief stay in Georgia made an impression that remained with him and influenced his opinions when, years later, he served in Lincoln's, then in Andrew Johnson's cabinet. Through its agents and brokers, THE GEORGIA HOME has served property owners since 1859.

Plane 'Signs' May Be Hoax, Army Indicates

Markers, Reported To Be Enemy Guides, Being Investigated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP) The War Department today questioned the truth of a story released by Army press agent on Monday, telling with accompanying photographs, of the discovery and obliteration of ingenious ground markers intended to guide enemy bombers to airfields and war production plants.

Asserting the story "may be untrue," the War Department said that Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum, commanding the eastern defense area, with headquarters at Governor's Island, N. Y., was conducting a thorough investigation. The release was distributed from Mitchell Field, N. Y.

Nine-Figure Signs. The story, and pictures, had to do with signs of grain stacked in a field in the form of a figure nine with the tail of the figure pointing to an aircraft plant, and plowed fields or woodland clearings shaped like arrows pointing to defense plants and air fields.

From the Washington Star, meanwhile, came word that the grain sacks were bags of fertilizer tossed at random from a moving truck on a Virginia farm, to dry in the sun. A woodland clearing, the Star said, had been determined to be a feeding ground for birds, established by the state of New Jersey.

"Marker Hoax."

The Star said that it and other newspapers which published the story and pictures "were the victims of over-zealous Army press agentry, and as a result, participated unwittingly in what appears to be the great air marker hoax."

Both the fertilizer sack figure nine, and the bird sanctuary clearing, were attended to months ago by the Army, after the pictures published yesterday were taken, the Star said. The fertilizer sacks, it added, were on the farm of C. Russell Bull, a prominent citizen of Kiptopeke, Va., who serves as a senior air raid warden.

It quoted Mrs. Bull as having said that Army men visited the farm in March and called attention to the sacks, but left satisfied after the figure had been rearranged. Mrs. Bull was further quoted as saying that they had been drying fertilizer bags that way for years, throwing them from a moving truck, and that the figure nine resulted quite by accident.

EAGER TO GO—Juanita Garrett, Georgia WAAC candidate, can hardly wait until August 29, her departure date for training at Fort Des Moines.

Juanita Garrett Will Be Sworn In as WAAC

Eager to Get in Uniform, Says Former Drama Teacher.

With her long brown bob and throaty drama-student's voice, Juanita Garrett, Georgia WAAC officer candidate, seems more the type for a Hollywood talent scout than an Army recruiting officer, but she's to be sworn into the women's army Saturday and leaves August 29 for Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

"I went out to Fort Mac yesterday to be sworn in with nine other Georgia girls," she explained yesterday. "I even took the second physical exam that seems to be necessary, even though I took a really stiff one three weeks ago. But just as I was all set to take the oath, they remembered that you can't be on two Army pay rolls at once, and since I don't finish my job at the provost marshal's office till Saturday, they said I'd have to wait and come back then."

Miss Garrett seemed really eager to get into uniform, however, despite the delay in being sworn in. "This is the first time women ever have had a chance to do something like this, and I want to be in on the ground floor."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ponder of Canton, Miss Garrett, who is 22, has been working in Atlanta since March. Before that she was a drama teacher in Jesup, Ga., having studied at Shorter College.

J. P. Morgan, U. S. Steel Hit By Promoter

Expects 'Dollar-a-Year Men' To Block Efforts for Money.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP) A west coast promoter who said he had sought funds to build a blast furnace in the Pacific northwest for the last 40 years told a senate committee today he expected "Morgan-U. S. Steel dollar-a-year men" to defeat his latest effort, an application for a $50,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The witness was Henry J. Landahl, of Bellingham, Wash., who testified before the Special Defense Investigating Committee in its inquiry into the reason why there is not enough steel for more shipyards and airplane factories in the war program.

Landahl said the Pacific-American Steel Iron Corporation, which he represented, was the outgrowth of five previous firms, "all stopped by the Morgan-U. S. Steel Corporation groups from securing the required financing" for a blast furnace unit on the Pacific coast.

His corporation last Wednesday filed an application for a loan of $50,000,000 from the RFC. "We realize how futile this step was," Landahl said, "as the Hon. Jesse Jones will naturally consult with the dollar-a-year men from the Morgan-U. S. Steel Corporation that surround him."

"We are quite certain our proposal will be either consigned to the wastepaper basket and incinerator, or the usual examinations of our iron ores, coals, markets, etc., will be started, supported by the usual $300,000 ap-

Social Circle Honors Local Boys in Army

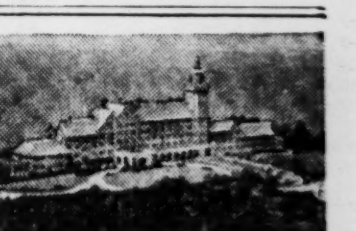

Joint Church Service Pays Tribute to Members of Armed Forces.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION. SOCIAL CIRCLE, Ga., Aug. 11. The spiritual and morale committee of which Mrs. George Malcom is local chairman, was in charge of the union service at the Baptist church Sunday night, and the families of the boys in the armed forces were especially invited, as was also the home unit of the state guard.

The purpose of the service was to honor the young men of this community who are serving with the fighting forces, to lift the morale of the people back home, and to emphasize what this nation has to preserve.

Mrs. Theodore Lee presided, and Miss Charlotte Reed was in charge of the music. The honor roll was read by Mrs. George Malcom. As each name was called some relative present arose and told his present location. A moment of silence was the salute given to honor the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hollis, who lost his life at Pearl Harbor.

"Yes, Bud! We'll send it to the Japs—behind a Shell!"

BUD: You mean Mom's bacon grease is shot in cannons? Jimminy! I never knew that.

MR. JONES: Neither did I, Bud, till the War Production Board wrote me a letter a few weeks ago. You see, kitchen fats make glycerine. And glycerine makes explosives that fire millions of shells for the United Nations. We need great quantities of glycerine to carry on the fight. And so—

BUD: So—Mom doesn't pour her grease down the sink any more. She sends it off to war.

MOM: That's right, Bud. And it means every kind of waste fat we have—drippings from chops and roasts, ham fat, bacon grease, vegetable shortening, everything. After I've got all the cooking good out of them, I bring them here to the meat market and Mr. Jones sends them on their way to war factories. I'm making it a wartime habit—for the duration.

Here's what you should do

1. After you've got all the cooking good from your fats, strain them through a kitchen sieve into a clean, wide-mouthed can, as a coffee or shortening can. Please don't use glass containers or paper bags. Keep the can in a cool, dark place.

2. Take to your meat dealer when you've collected a pound or more. He will pay you the established price for your fats and send them on their way to the war factories. But it will help him greatly if you can deliver them early in the week.

•Bugs' Baer Says:

The Indians should still be our landlords. And the Senecas of upstate New York are.

I read this week that the Seneca nation of Salamanca evicted some white folks who couldn't raise the scratch for their rent. And the Indians didn't mean clam shells.

There was a time when the Senecas would take wampum and glass beads and maybe that time will come again. I gandered a fellow on a high bicycle yesterday.

Being put outdoors this kind of weather is no punishment. Anyway, there's a nice one-family wickup for rent upstate if you don't mind the janitor carrying a tomahawk.

William Schley Howard, Atlanta attorney and former U. S. congressman, will speak at 7:45 o'clock tonight over radio station WGST in the interest of Congressman Robert Rampeck, a candidate for re-election.

Bank clearings for yesterday totaled $11,800,000, as compared with $10,700,000 for the corresponding day last year.

Fifth Civil Service District announced yesterday Washington is in urgent need of junior clerks, male or female, for war work. For the convenience of applicants, the commission is holding a general intelligence test Friday at the New Post Office building. Interested parties may file application in Rooms 311 and 409.

On Thursday night, August 6, friends of Jere Wells held a watermelon cutting at West Fulton High, and formed a "Wells-for-Congress" club. Officers for the newly formed club are: E. E. ... The Market Basket

By JEANNE OSBORNE.

Lamb and shrimp to the rescue. These two items will keep the meat market from getting into the doldrums these days when it is sorely tried by shortages of beef and pork. Jumbo green shrimp of the vein-z variety are an unusual bargain at 35 cents a pound, especially since the sand vein is removed.

The supply of lamb has been reinforced in the past few days so well that loin chops can be bought for 59 cents a pound; rib lamb, 49 cents a pound; and lamb legs, 35 cents a pound. Poultry and milked veal from the west and middle west are also on the plentiful side.

Although a rapid elevation in the prices of green beans, pole beans, crowder peas, and butterbeans testifies that they are vanishing from the market, many New Jersey cobbler potatoes are coming at the price of 10 pounds for 23 cents. Georgia peaches are moving fairly well, and the luscious Virginia crop has stepped in to satiate fruit-craving palates.

Michigan celery, at eight cents a stalk, has finally condescended to come within reach of the average housekeeper's pocket.

Cabbage, collards, green corn, eggplant, okra, squash, turnip salad, and radishes are abundant.

Nazis Free Frenchman For Every 3 Workers

VICHY, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Germany will release one French prisoner-of-war for every three skilled workers who go to the Reich to help the Nazis. Pierre Laval announced today as he welcomed back to French soil the first lot of 1,000 prisoners liberated since the chief of government began recruiting men.

The announcement was made at the same time and prominently displayed in the Paris newspapers that Laval has accepted the honorary presidency of the French anti-Soviet volunteers—the tricolor legion fighting in the German ranks on the eastern front.

This report placed Georgia 19th among the 48 states, Allen said. At the same time, Mrs. Joseph F. Robinson, of Washington, regional advisor in the women's section of the war savings staff, revealed here that a national "Women's War Bond Week" is being planned for the last week in November.

A Great Difference in Ages Makes Marriage Too Big a Risk

Dear Dixie:

I am a widow with four children, whom I have supported for six years. I married when I was 16 and have two sets of twins. I have been going with a young man—he is only 21—who tells me he loves me. I am 42 and have told him I thought I was too old for him. We see each other every day, and he always tells me that he does not care about my age because he loves me so much. I do not know what to do about this. He is a nice looking boy and a good one, and I like him very much. Do you think he is too young for me? I have asked him if he cannot get a younger girl, and he has told me he can, but he would rather date me, although I have been refusing him lately.

B. M. H.

Since you are old enough to be his mother, I certainly do not think you should consider him in any way except purely from a basis of friendship. It all sounds very romantic and exciting now, and I do not doubt that he loves you, but remember when he is a young man of 35, just in the prime of his life, you will be past middle age, and it will break your heart for him to step out with the younger women, which he will do nine times out of ten. Marriages such as this seldom last, so I think you better date him, if you care to, and forget about him from a romantic standpoint. The difference in your ages is entirely too great to consider marriage.

Your Horoscope For Today

By ALICE DENTON JENNINGS.

What today means to you if you were born between:

March 21 and April 19 (ARIES)—You are likely to feel a strong urge to get something done today, and will feel a desire to put things over in a hurry. If you can harness this force, that is, hold it in bounds, and use your urge to do things in a constructive and moderate way this should be a most favorable period for all important matters.

April 20 and May 20 (TAURUS)—Energy and ambition will be high previous to 2:30 p. m., making this a propitious time for having dealings with publishers, managers, judges, and intellectual people. After 2:30 p. m. will be better to refresh and conserve your efforts, for your decisions may be somewhat clouded or marked with indecisions.

May 21 and June 20 (GEMINI)—The most important time of the day for taking important action along all lines appears to be after 1:35 p. m. An excellent period for constructive work in matters of finances, personal advancement.

June 21 and July 22 (CANCER)—Look the situation over today. Something or someone is ready to call a halt to your activities. Financial interests are not favored today, making this an inauspicious time to lend or incur obligation.

July 23 and August 22 (LEO)—This is not a day to lay solid foundations for the future. Your judgment will be premature and unsound. Go slow on new ideas.

August 23 and September 22 (VIRGO)—Before 1:03 p. m. holds conservative influences, favoring matters of a substantial nature, getting at things in a positive way and finishing work that has been dragging. After 1:03 p. m., radical changes or departure from ordinary procedure should be guarded against.

September 23 and October 22 (LIBRA)—Previous to 12:15 noon favors general business activities with executives and officials, and seeking favors. Between 12:15 p. m. and 10:07 p. m. discretion should be used around liquids and firearms.

October 23 and November 21 (SCORPIO)—Give your attention to routine matters today, for the day is filled with influences that are unfavorable for changes. New ideas and plans now may be confused and uncertain.

November 22 and December 21 (SAGITTARIUS)—The entire day favors practically all lines of endeavor. Be active and energetic in promoting all matters. The afternoon hours are more favorable than previous to 1:27 p. m.

December 22 and January 19 (CAPRICORN)—The best aspects of the day operate previous to 11:45 a. m., favoring dealings with the opposite sex and for out of the ordinary affairs.

January 20 and February 18 (AQUARIUS)—Previous to 11:10 a. m. favors financial transactions, industrial and manufacturing, business and dealings in legal and educational affairs. After 11:10 a. m. favors dealings in and with other people, affairs of art and adornment.

The Clark Gable situation at M-G-M has everyone concerned more or less stymied. The only thing that interests Clark now is getting into some branch of the service. And in the meantime, while he waits some definite word from Washington about how his services can be utilized, he wants to make only service pictures with an Army or Navy background. The big boy just isn't interested in other movies—even a best seller like "The Sun Is My Undoing"—or other properties that have been bought for him. When Clark makes up his mind he can be stubborn. The whole thing has developed into quite a tangle at his home studio.

Jane Withers proves she is a business woman as well as an actress.

Jane Withers Pulls a Fast One To Pick Her Leading Man

By Louella Parsons.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The French artist, Raimu, made an unforgettable impression on everyone who saw him in "The Baker's Wife." Unfortunately, Raimu cannot speak a word of English or he would have been in Hollywood months ago. Now there is another French picture, "The Man Who Seeks the Truth," with Raimu and again the Frenchman attracts attention. So Buddy De Sylva has bought the movie outright and will remake it as Walter Wanger remade "Pepe Le Moko" into the smash hit, "Algiers."

When I talked with Buddy he hadn't made up his mind who is to get to play with Raimu role. He thought Bing Crosby—which puzzled me considerably, since Raimu and Bing are about as much alike as Charlie Chaplin and Charles Boyer. Then, again Buddy is considering Henry Fonda, whom he would borrow from 20th. Haven't seen the picture, but it must be an elastic role.

My pal, Jane Withers, must have some agent blood in her veins. When Janie checked out the Republic lot for "Johnny Doughboy," she started plugging for a young former extra boy, Pat Brook, to play her leading man. "Tut, tut," said the bosses in effect, "we don't care how well an extra boy sings or dances. We want a name." That's where Jane's 10 per cent blood came out—and also one of the cutest stunts I ever heard of. Today was Director Johnny Auer's birthday, and imagine his surprise when the most talented "messenger" boy he ever heard sing (and dance) showed up to sing him "Happy Birthday." He called the studio immediately that he had the "find" of the year.

I need to go on? You guessed it—the boy was Janies' protégé, Pat, and he gets the lead!

Summer Meals For the Thin Girl

By Ida Jean Kain.

You thin girls have a hard time holding your own in summer. Unless you are careful, you lose precious pounds. You say it's just too hot to bother to eat. So you skip breakfast, have conversation and iced coffee for lunch, and are too tired to eat a good dinner. It's not surprising that you wonder whether your frazzled nerves can hold out until you get a vacation.

Have a good hot weather menu. Start off with fruit juice, a tall cool drink, for Vitamin C. And have a crisp ready-to-eat cereal. In damp weather, take the lumps out of the cereal by having it freshly heated, and top it off with your favorite fruits in season or a mixture like sliced peaches and red raspberries, then pour on whole milk plus cream. For an occasional change, have hot buttered raisin toast with strawberry jam. Have your hot coffee half milk and take two cups. Allow enough time to set your good menu and you'll find you enjoy your breakfast.

If you can possibly manage it, have lunch at the same time every day. Regularity of mealtimes is the secret of a normal appetite and a good digestion. Have whatever you like. Just be sure to include one hot dish and to eat slowly.

If you are exhausted at night, rest before you eat or prepare food. Just relaxing for 15 minutes may be enough to set you up. Your dinner need not be an elaborate meal. In fact, the simple menus are best. Try a menu like this: two hot vegetables, one green leafy or yellow; a serving of meat or chicken, hot or cold; perhaps a salad and a cold custard with crushed fresh berries. Milk is your best beverage.

Send for the leaflet "Weight-Gaining Menus." Please enclose stamped return envelope, to Ida Jean Kain, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

All in the Game

By JACK TROY

Still on Fire

The question has not been settled as to whether freshmen will be allowed to play with varsity football teams in the Southeastern Conference this fall.

Conference directors reached a stalemate in the last meeting and left an opening for later discussion.

Commissioner Mike Connor doesn't offer any clue as to what the conference may decide but says that "since the Big Three (Yale, Harvard and Princeton) are going to play freshmen and so are a lot of other recognized conferences, I personally am for it—if it is a necessity."

There is a good chance of freshmen being allowed to play, and a couple of schools would be greatly assisted thereby. Ole Miss has been riddled by player losses to the service. Florida also has been hard hit.

Some of the others might want to use freshmen, but for the most part it is not likely that any first-year men would be used.

Quite a jump from freshman to varsity ball. Sophomores notoriously are uncertain under fire. And for freshmen to begin their college careers on varsity teams is something that could happen only in cases of extreme necessity at many schools.

We might point out, because it happens to be an example right in our own backyard, that only one sophomore is listed on the first two teams at Georgia. The rest are juniors and seniors.

Not much opportunity for a freshman here. And a like situation prevails at many of the other schools. Only at Ole Miss and Florida, where there are no military units, has there been a heavy departure of talent. The boys joined various branches of the service instead of waiting until after graduation.

One Sure Thing

Come what may, the chances are that Georgia and Georgia Tech will have freshmen teams, as usual, and that they will play the regular schedules, winding up the year on Turkey day in the annual game for the benefit of the Scottish Rite hospital for crippled children.

It was a dream come true for Uncle Billy Wardlaw, Frank Spratt, Tom Law and those other outstanding men of the Shrine who had worked unceasingly for the game's success when Grant field was packed to capacity last Thanksgiving Day. Wasn't even necessary to open the ticket windows. The game was a complete sell-out.

Freshmen rules or no freshmen rules, the game must go on.

It has been a Godsend for crippled children of Georgia who otherwise might never have had the opportunity for treatment that the Scottish Rite hospital affords. The proceeds of this game annually are invested in citizenship.

It's the best dollar a football fan spends in any season.

Old Discovery

Earl Mann wasn't taking anybody's word about Clyde Humphreys, left-handed pitcher just purchased by the Crackers from the Dallas (Texas League) Rebels.

Mann first signed Humphreys for the Yankees when he was business manager years ago for the Wheeling, W. Va., club, a Yankee farm.

"He's a fine left-hander, and what I like about him is his burning desire to beat Nashville. He'll be with us for the series this weekend. Nashville beat him in the Dixie Series last year and he is anxious to get even," Mann pointed out.

Time came to pick up the luncheon check and Paul (Slick) Sanford said, "Let's match. Odd man pays."

It sounded like an honest game and I fell for it. I hadn't seen the signal.

So there was nothing but heads on all sides until I threw a tails.

The Crackers should begin a winning streak immediately.

Gridders Pull Peanuts On Ben Hill Farms

Squad Volunteers for Early 'Drills' as Labor Shortage Menaces Crop Collection.

FITZGERALD, Ga., Aug. 11.—Football practice began today for the famed Purple Hurricane of Fitzgerald high school.

But not on a football field. It began on three blistering fields of "food for freedom" where lack of harvest labor has become critical for the farmers.

Every member of the squad, except three recovering from injuries in an automobile wreck a week ago, bore the heat of the day to shake the peanuts that will produce oil.

James Harden, originally elected captain of the football squad's "Food for Freedom" Battalion, had to act as staff captain, with his arm in a sling from the Sunday wreck. Francis Raynor, field captain, personally led the largest unit, 16 deployed on H. M. Outlaw's farm west of Fitzgerald. Six helped Buck Hogan, northwest of town, and eight Sam Booker, south of town.

The three farmers submitted themselves as "guinea pigs" for this new experiment in testing the mettle of high school football heroes who have been spending the summer, for the most part, as drugstore cowboys. They came in blistered, footsore and weary but, to the last man, pledged to go out again tomorrow.

"Man, we'll be in the toughest high school football team in Georgia after a month of this," said Captain Raynor.

Milnar Gives 2 Hits in 14 Frames, Gets Only Tie

Tribe Ace Has No-Hitter for 8 2-3 Innings

Red Sox Shade Yanks in 11 Stanzas, 3 to 2.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Al Milnar kept Detroit hitless until Roger Cramer singled with two out in the ninth and gave only one more hit the next five innings, but all the big Cleveland southpaw got out of it tonight with a scoreless tie. The Indians, out-tilling the Tigers in the opener of a twilight twin bill, collected nine hits off Tommy Bridges, but could not score and the umpires called the game at the end of the fourteenth because American League rule do not permit daylight games to be finished under floodlights.

The only other safe blows against the 28-year-old portlander was Rudy York's one-bagger to left field with one down in the thirteenth.

Milnar, once a minor league outfielder-turned-pitcher, also collected two of the Tribe's nine hits—a double and single—in six trips.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout hurled the Tigers to a 3-to-2 triumph in the night game of the twin bill.

Crackers and Smokies Play Twin Bill Tonight

Mertz, McGowan To Hurl; First Game Will Start at 7 O'Clock.

By JACK TROY.
Constitution Sports Editor.

Rain washed out last night's scheduled opener with Knoxville and swept the Crackers into a flock of double-headers.

There will be two games tonight, starting at 7 o'clock, and it will be ladies' night.

A double-header is scheduled also for Thursday night with the Smokies, from whom the Crackers have won 11 games in 14 starts.

Other double-headers for the week will send the Crackers into action against the Nashville Vols on Friday night and Sunday afternoon.

In other words, there will be a total of eight games on four days. Saturday is an off day.

Pep Rambert pitched a scoreless first inning last night and probably will not go back on the firing line for a week. Jim Mertz and Earl McGowan will hurl tonight.

Dick Coffman will take up where he left off last night. He had turned in a scoreless inning before the rains came. Floyd Stromme, the ex-Cracker, may draw the assignment in the second game.

There was no fair test of the new pastime of war bonds and stamps for foul balls. Not a ball was tipped into bleachers or stands in the one inning that was played.

The feature will be observed again tonight. All balls are stamped in amounts ranging from 25 cents to $50 and upon their return to the Cracker office will be exchanged for whatever amount called for in bonds or stamps.

Kirby Downs Matson, 2-Up, In First Round

Tainter Wins; Meets Defending Champ in Western Today.

By DOROTHY KIRBY.
EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 11.—The matches were really tough today in the Women's Western Amateur meet, with quite a few 18 and 19-hole ones.

Georgia Tainter downed Phyllis Otto, 3 and 2, and meets the defending champion, Mrs. Russell Mann, tomorrow.

Marjorie Row finally won from Shirley Johnson on the 19th hole and Mary Agnes Wall also went to 18 holes to beat Jeanne Cline in a hard-fought match. Betty Jameson won, 3 and 2, and plays Arlene Sweet tomorrow. Arlene put Mary Jayne Garman out in some what of an upset.

My round ended at the 18th hole, where I won by 2 up. I have never worked so hard and gotten nowhere so fast. It seemed as though neither of us wanted the match, for I gave Mrs. Matson, my opponent, chance after chance and she did the same way until finally I took advantage of an opportunity and that was what made the difference.

We were all even at the ninth hole. I won the 10th hole to be 1 up and then I quickly lost the 11th to be even again. The 12th and 13th were halved and I won the 14th to be 1 up once more but lost the 15th to a par to get square again. We both got pars on the long 16th and my break came on the short 17th, where Mrs. Matson went over the green on her first shot, missed the second and got a 4, while I sunk my first putt of any distance for a birdie 2 and a 1-up advantage going to the 18th. I won this one with a par and that was the way the round went.

I met Mrs. Geo. Wilder tomorrow. Maybe I can come to a little bit by the time we tee off and give a better account of myself.

One of the best matches tomorrow will be the one between Mrs. Mann and Tainter. That will really be a battle. I only hope that I can get by tomorrow and have another try at Betty Jameson, for if she and I both win tomorrow we will meet on Thursday and that will be the only time we have played since 1939 at the National.
